

CREATE EXTRA INCOME

You will be filling yearly tax returns for the rest of your life. Learning how to do it right is sure to save time and money – it could even lead to a new career path.

Softron Inc., one of the most sought-after companies during “tax time” for the last 20 years is now offering beginner and advanced tax preparing courses at various North York locations.

Practical and with heavy emphasis on preparation, these courses are taught by qualified instructors with an accounting background who have filed thousands of returns themselves.

At the end of the course people will be able to file their return or that of their family or friends with confidence.

The courses also attract accounting students and seasoned professionals looking to refresh their knowledge and gather practical experience.

Those with seasonal employment and even stay-at-home moms take the courses looking for extra income during “tax season.”

LEVEL 1

Training starts with the eight-week Level 1 course. Students learn how to file personal returns and follow a well-structured curriculum. The focus is placed on practicality and by the time the course is complete, students have a thorough understanding of every topic.

LEVEL 2

Level 2 focuses on business and corporate returns. It is a great course for small business owners. There is a test at the end of the fourth section and an open book final exam at the end.

Courses also include free software that students can use at home.
